Oodi

<https://oodi.aalto.fi>

Oodi is a University owned service. Purpose of the Oodi is to support teaching and studying in University. Enrollments into courses, study register administration and personal study plans are made via Oodi. Teachers can use Oodi for observing teaching, editing course information, founding new teaching groups, and sending emails to participating students etc.

Valuation (9.4.2020)

Oodi (WebOodi and WinOodi) is Aalto University's current student information system. It is the home of student's study rights and studies. In Oodi students can for example register to courses, and the staff can edit time and place information for courses, and also course descriptions. Oodi also offers students completed studies info and possibility to print transcripts of records and certificates.

Oodi is used by many universities in Finland. Several universities have been developing it together, so that it supports well different education administration processes.
